Dear '68 Classmates,

Our 40th CC Reunion is just around the corner, October 10 – 12! Are you coming? So far 90 classmates and friends have let us know they hope to attend and the list continues to grow. Committee member Nym Park has set up a website with our beautiful mug shots. Find it at http://www.firesign.us/pass_form.asp (password - deanreid or deanmoon). Log on, see how many faces you recognize from 40 years ago and email Nym (nypark@yahoo.com) to add your photo!

Why come? Besides seeing old friends and exploring old haunts, there are some pretty amazing things planned for our reunion! Thank Doug Brown for this great idea: We'll honor the legendary Professor Fred Sondermann's memory by engaging our minds! What a concept. Be sure to arrive by 3 pm on Friday the 10th for a panel discussion, "Elections 2008: End Game and Reflections". Professors Tim Fuller and Bob Loevy will be joined by Fred's son Eric, now a political analyst. And if we all pester Chuck Buxton, our very own Pulitzer Prize winner, maybe he will join in! Our dinner Friday night comes equipped with a great view of Pikes Peak.

Saturday is filled with traditional CC Homecoming activities including Freedom and Authority, the *alumni awards ceremony, the all campus picnic, the class march (maybe we should make some new protest signs to carry – Bob Sears, you're in charge of that) and lots of sporting events.

The weekend also features the dedication of the new Edith Kinney Gaylord Cornerstone Arts Center building – just wait until you see that, you'll want to re-enroll. As part of the dedication, there will be on-going performances throughout the weekend. We will meet for dinner and drinks in Olin Fishbowl Saturday evening, with an after-dinner presentation by our favorite world class photographer, Dave Burnett, who will transport us to China with "What You Might Have Missed: Moments From the Beijing Olympics". Those who wish can catch the 9 pm performance of Bandaloop – dancing ON the sides of the new arts building. Then back to the Fishbowl for dessert, coffee, another glass of wine and good conversation with friends. Some may wander across the quad to the Homecoming Dance.

Sunday will be the all-campus farewell brunch in Bemis Great Hall.

Homecoming registration will begin August 1. Watch for the brochure in the mail or register on-line.

The class of '68 is always up for a challenge and so it's time for "Challenge 68". Recognizing that it's time to step up to show our gratitude for our CC experience, a group of our classmates have done just that, made their personal commitments, and created "Challenge 68". We each make our gift to CC and additional funds come to the college from the challenge group. It's pretty simple – just take a look at the insert for the details. So the challenge group has stepped up, now it's our turn. Gifts through 2008 count, but those that arrive before June 30 really pay.

What to do NOW:

- Circle October 10th – 12th on your calendar and make your hotel reservations!
- Let the Alumni Office know you are planning to attend our reunion, 800-852-6519 or Reunions@ColoradoCollege.edu. Then make your formal registration when the brochure arrives.
- Visit our class reunion website for all our reunion details, www.ColoradoCollege.edu/Alumni/HomecomingReunions/2008/1968.
- Participate in Challenge 68 by returning the enclosed contribution card, or online at www.ColoradoCollege.edu/Giving.

See you in October for our best reunion yet!

* We all need to be at the awards ceremony – to either cheer or razz Diane Brown Benninghoff, who will receive one of the alumni association awards. And many will remember Terry Winograd '66, or at least remember the publication The Weekly Bitch. Terry is receiving an award as well.

The following hope to attend our 40th Reunion (email Reunions@ColoradoCollege.edu to add your name to the list).
