

July 11, 2007
Jackson Hole, Wyoming

The Rockies Research team stopped in Jackson Hole, Wyoming to attend a special meeting of the Jackson Latino Services Network. The Latino Services Network is a group of organizations that work together to assist the Latino community in the greater Jackson area. The Latino Services Network shared their experiences with the Rockies team and had some valuable suggestions for further research.

