

Communications Director Application

Description:

Main role will be responsible for creating and managing content for CCIC. The Communications director will be in charge of writing the weekly newsletter and making important club wide notifications. They will be responsible for planning, organizing and creating content for the CCIC blog/website. The position is part of the leadership board, and the director will help in leadership meetings. Lastly, position had a wide license to create projects at their discretion. Please answer the following questions and email answers with your resume attached to a_fresen@coloradocollege.edu by March 1th, 2021 (Next First Monday of 6th Block). Late applications will not be considered.

Name:

Date:

(1) Please provide a brief explanation about why you would like to be Communications officers:

(2) Please succinctly summarize a recent article you read, and explain its importance to investing, finance or economics. What topics does the event cover, or what topics should you learn to better understand the event/article? The article can be closely or tangentially related to investing.

(3) What previous leadership experience have you had in the past? Describe one experience where you had to resolve a difficult conflict.

(4) Please sign and date below to confirm and accept the following performance AND attendance requirements associated with being a Portfolio Manager:

- (1) You must attend EVERY MEETING unless you have an excused absence.
- (2) You will be able to attend the first Thursday of each block leadership meetings.
- (3) Write a weekly newsletter with club announcements, job opportunities and relevant economics/finance articles.

Signature:

Date:
