ABOUT THE CONDUCTORS

JEREMY VAN HOY is presently bass trombonist with the Colorado Springs Philharmonic, Boulder Philharmonic and the Opera Colorado. After growing up in Detroit, he received music performance degrees from the University of Michigan (B.M.) and Northwestern University (M.M.). His teachers were Fritz Kaenzig and Frank Crisafulli, respectively. As euphonium soloist, Mr. Van Hoy has performed with the Denver Municipal Band, Denver Brass, Ann Arbor Chamber Brass, Boulder Brass, Pikes Peak Brass Band, Little London Winds and the Livonia (MI) Symphony. In 1996, he was the 1st Prize winner at the Leonard Falcone International Euphonium Competition. Other accomplishments include being the first bass trombonist selected to the Tanglewood Music Center twice, and selection to the Sir Georg Solti Orchestral Project at Carnegie Hall. Mr. Van Hoy is an active free-lancer, having performed frequently with the Detroit, St. Louis, New Mexico and Colorado Symphonies. An active proponent of new music, Mr. Van Hoy gave his New York recital debut on April 5, 1998 in Merkin Concert Hall. This program featured five works written especially for the soloist. During the 2004-05 school year, he was instructor of euphonium at the University of Colorado-Boulder, holding a one-year position. In September 2008, Jeremy became the director of the Colorado College Concert Band. You can also hear him play horns and keyboard with the indie-folk band, Edith Makes A Paperchain.

A native of Colorado, BERNIE BRINK has spent his entire professional life teaching and performing music. Following very diverse performing and composing experience in his undergraduate and graduate studies, Bernie's proclivity for education led him to studio teaching almost immediately. In addition to tailoring instruction and curriculum for students of all ages and abilities, including special needs students, he also developed and taught courses on a variety of topics, including jazz improvisation, jazz styles for rhythm section, experimental music, world music, advanced piano techniques, and more. He continues to direct curriculum and program development for educational initiatives with the Colorado Springs Philharmonic.

Accomplished in both jazz and classical styles, Bernie accompanied dance and company classes for the Madison Ballet, Ballet Austin, and the American Ballet Theatre, while continuing to perform numerous club dates with small jazz groups. Through his work in experimental music ensembles, he has performed at festivals throughout the U.S. and Europe, and has worked with contemporary composers Stephen Scott, Stephen Drury, and Christian Wolff.

Bernie received his Bachelor of Arts in Music from Colorado College, and his Master of Music in Jazz Studies from the University of Northern Colorado. Outside of his professional roles, Bernie continues to compose works for a variety of ensembles, and in his free time enjoys modern board gaming, cooking, painting, and small gatherings with friends.
