ABOUT THE ARTISTS

DANIEL BRINK is well known as a teacher, vocal coach, collaborative artist, and adjudicator throughout the Front Range of Colorado. He has been a member of the music faculty of Colorado College since 1987 and has taught on the faculty of the Colorado College Vocal Arts Festival since its inception. Outside CC, Dan serves as Assistant Conductor and Principal Pianist for the Colorado Springs Chorale. He also serves as Accompanist/Coach and Music Director for Opera Theatre of the Rockies, and frequently performs in recital with singers throughout Colorado. Dan is also a talented arranger whose works have been performed by the Colorado Springs Chorale, the Colorado Springs Children's Chorale, the Colorado Vocal Arts Ensemble, the Colorado Springs Symphony, and many small ensembles throughout the region. He received his bachelor's degree in piano performance from the University of Southern Colorado and received his Master of Music degree in Collaborative Piano from the University of Colorado at Boulder.

STEPHANIE BRINK, Mezzo-Soprano/Contralto, Instructor of Voice, has performed extensively in the American Southwest. She is a Colorado native, who began her vocal career in the jazz and music theatre realms. Following her undergraduate study at the Colorado College (BA Music, class of 2007), she began intense vocal study with Martile Rowland before leaving to pursue her master's degree at the University of Arizona (MM Opera Performance, class of 2013). Upon completion of her master's, Miss Brink returned to Colorado to continue her vocal study with Miss Rowland. Miss Brink enjoys teaching, directing, and performing. She is currently pursuing a career in Opera Performance.

Grammy nominated pianist and Steinway Artist SUSAN GRACE has performed solo and chamber recitals and has appeared as soloist with orchestras in the United States, Europe, the former Soviet Union, Korea, India and China. She has also performed in the Aspekte Festival in Salzburg, St Paul Chamber Orchestra's new-music series Engine 408, Phillips Collection in Washington, D.C., the Grand Teton Festival, the Cape Cod Music Festival, Festival Mozaic, Concordia Chamber Players, Music at Oxford, and the Helmsley Festival in England. She is a member of Quattro Mani, an internationally acclaimed two-piano ensemble with NY pianist Steven Beck. Recent performances include CUNY Graduate Center, Bargemusic, National Sawdust, Subculture and Weill Recital Hall at Carnegie Hall and Steinway Hall in NY, La Laboratoire Cambridge, Curtis Institute in Philadelphia and the Alabama and Austin Symphonies. Grace has recorded for Bridge Records, the Belgium National Radio, WFMT in Chicago, the Society of Composers, Wilson Audio, Klavier International and Klavier Music Productions. Her recording on the Bridge label of Stefan Wolpe's violin and piano music was listed in the London Sunday Times as one of the top ten Contemporary recordings of 2015 and was also included on the Fanfare "Critics Want List 2016". Bridge Records recently released 4 new CDs by Quattro Mani featuring American and European composers; Lounge Lizards and Re-Structures in 2018 as well as Stefan Wolpe's music for two pianos and the Poul Ruders Edition, Volume 15 released in 2019, all to critical acclaim. Grace was awarded 2020 Gresham Riley Award, Alumni Association's highest honor for service to Colorado College.

Grace is associate chair, artist-in-residence, and senior lecturer in music at Colorado College. She is also music director of the renowned Colorado College Summer Music Festival, now in its 37th season. She was awarded the Christine S. Johnson Professorship of Music from 2014-16. In June 2014, Mayor Steve Bach and the city of Colorado Springs presented Ms. Grace with the Spirit of the Springs award for her work with the Colorado College Summer Music Festival. Grace was nominated for a Grammy in the Best Small Ensemble Performance category.

Known for her versatility and intense musical interpretation, Colorado harpist JENNA HUNT brings a fresh perspective to being a professional musician in today's culture. Her talents combine a jazz and classical background from receiving her bachelor's degree in jazz at University of Northern Colorado (2015) and her master's degree in Harp Performance at University of Denver Lamont School of Music

(2020). While at University of Denver's Lamont School of Music, she was a finalist in the University's concerto competition performing the final movement to Ginastera's Harp Concerto. She has studied under such legendary harpists as Ann Marie Liss, Grace Browning and Kathy Bundock-Moore. Ms. Hunt routinely performs with local orchestras, chamber ensembles and as a soloist, and has performed at such prestigious venues as Carnegie Hall, The Sydney Opera House, Shanghai Performing Arts Center and Lincoln Center. In addition to performing, she teaches private lessons to aspiring harpists of all ages. She is currently the harp instructor at Colorado College and holds office as the Vice President for the Mile High Chapter of the American Harp Society.

During the 2021-22 season, Jenna is collaborating with other Colorado musicians to present new formats of classical and jazz concerts.

JERILYN JORGENSEN is a member of the performance faculty of Colorado College and has been adjunct faculty in violin and chamber music at the Lamont School of Music of the University of Denver and Visiting Assistant Professor of Violin at the State University of New York in Potsdam, NY. From 1980-2004 she was first violinist of the Da Vinci Quartet, and as a member of that ensemble she has performed throughout the United States, been a prizewinner in the Shostakovich International String Quartet Competition and finalist in the Naumburg Chamber Music Competition, and appeared on PBS's NewsHour with Jim Lehrer. Her recordings appear on the Naxos label. Her performances with the quartet have been praised as "...abundant in feeling and fire" (Milwaukee Journal), "taut, confident playing, brimming with thrust and color" (Los Angeles Times), and as exhibiting "ease, authority, and thoroughgoing excellence" (San Francisco Chronicle).

Concerts from 2014-2018 included the complete Beethoven Sonatas in Colorado Springs and Denver with pianist Cullan Bryant, as well as appearances in New Mexico, Potsdam, NY, Boston, Ann Arbor, MI and elsewhere in Colorado. As a performer of historically informed concerts on original instruments, she has appeared with Mr. Bryant at the Frederick Collection of Historic Pianos in Ashburnham, MA and at the National Music Museum in Vermillion, South Dakota. She and Mr. Bryant are currently at work recording the complete Beethoven sonata on period instruments at the Frederick Collection, and they were featured artists at the Historic Keyboard Society of North America's annual conference in May 2018.

Ms. Jorgensen has given master classes in violin and chamber music at the University of California at Davis, University of Nevada at Las Vegas, Sam Houston State University, Kansas State University, Simon's Rock College, the University of Northern Colorado, and Colorado State University. She is in demand as a pre-college teacher, counting among her present and past students several winners of regional competitions, including the MTNA senior string competition. She is on the faculty of the Lamont Pre-College Academy summer program and is the Artistic Development Coordinator for the Colorado Springs Youth Symphony Association, where her responsibilities have included curriculum design and teacher training for the Mozart Strings Project and sectional coaching and coaching oversight for four orchestras. She is currently director of chamber music for the organization, managing coaching and community performances throughout the year for student chamber ensembles.

Ms. Jorgensen holds Bachelor of Music degrees from the Eastman School of Music and the Juilliard School, and a Master of Music degree from Juilliard. Her major teachers have included Zvi Zeitlin, Joseph Fuchs, and Leonard Sorkin. She has also worked with Burton Kaplan. Ms. Jorgensen plays a beautiful violin from 1728 made by Sanctus Serafin.

Cellist ANDREW KOLB has performed as a soloist and chamber musician throughout the United States as well as in Canada, England, Switzerland and Sweden. For six years he was a member of the Fairmount String Quartet and principal cellist of the Wichita Symphony Orchestra. After moving to Oregon, he was principal cellist of the Eugene Symphony and was a member of the Columbia Piano Trio, performing concerts in Germany and Austria including the famous Haydnhaus-Wien.

Kolb studied with Timothy Eddy at SUNY Stony Brook, Ross Harbaugh at University of Miami and Steven Doane at the Eastman School of Music. He has taught cello on university faculties in Newfoundland, Kansas and Oregon. Currently, Dr. Kolb teaches at the Thomas MacLaren School in Colorado Springs, and he is a member of the MacLaren String Quartet and Colorado Springs Philharmonic.

JEREMY VAN HOY is presently bass trombonist with the Colorado Springs Philharmonic, Boulder Philharmonic and the Opera Colorado. After growing up in Detroit, he received music performance degrees from the University of Michigan (B.M.) and Northwestern University (M.M.). His teachers were Fritz Kaenzig and Frank Crisafulli, respectively. As euphonium soloist, Mr. Van Hoy has performed with the Denver Municipal Band, Denver Brass, Ann Arbor Chamber Brass, Boulder Brass, Pikes Peak Brass Band, Little London Winds and the Livonia (MI) Symphony. In 1996, he was the 1st Prize winner at the Leonard Falcone International Euphonium Competition. Other accomplishments include being the first bass trombonist selected to the Tanglewood Music Center twice, and selection to the Sir Georg Solti Orchestral Project at Carnegie Hall. Mr. Van Hoy is an active free-lancer, having performed frequently with the Detroit, St. Louis, New Mexico and Colorado Symphonies. An active proponent of new music, Mr. Van Hoy gave his New York recital debut on April 5, 1998 in Merkin Concert Hall. This program featured five works written especially for the soloist. During the 2004-05 school year, he was instructor of euphonium at the University of Colorado-Boulder, holding a one-year position. In September 2008, Jeremy became the director of the Colorado College Concert Band. You can also hear him play horns and keyboard with the indie-folk band, Edith Makes A Paperchain.

ALEJANDRO VIEIRA earned his Master of Music degree from the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music and a Bachelor of Music degree from the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University. Alex joined the Colorado Springs Symphony, now the Colorado Springs Philharmonic, in January 2001. His teachers include William Winstead, Linda Harwell, Phillip Kolker, Denis Michel, Manuel Zegler, and David Fedderly. Alex is also a member of the United States Air Force Academy Band, and currently serves as principal bassoonist of the Concert Band and of the Academy Winds woodwind quintet. Alex has been featured as a soloist with the Concert Band and the Academy Winds as well as a featured recitalist in the band's Chamber Recital Series. He maintains an active teaching studio in Colorado Springs and is currently the bassoon instructor at Colorado College.
