What Does Success Look Like?
Visioning Exercise
Colorado College - 2025
Step #1: Year of Listening

• Strengths

• Opportunities for Improvement

• Ambitions
Step #2: Establish Strategies

• Increase our focus on engaged teaching and learning.

• Emphasize our distinctive place in the world.

• Extend our reach by developing a powerful new asset for the years ahead.

• Identify improvements in our organization that will make us more nimble, effective, and at ease with change.
It is the unanimous consensus of the Board of Trustees that the President lead a strategic planning process to examine and affirm aspirational goals for the future of Colorado College and then recommend a prioritized series of action items designed to propel the institution's capabilities in the following dimensions:

- elevate the college's identity as a highly-selective liberal arts institution
- strengthen the academic program with an emphasis on engaged teaching and learning
- explore how our unique location, character and community can be leveraged to support the academic venture and promote a collective sense of place
- evaluate and enhance institutional effectiveness and efficiency to better position the institution for evolving changes in higher education
Board of Trustees Charge

The board asks that the strategic planning process conform to the following criteria:

• that a final draft be submitted to the Board for approval by July 1, 2013.
• that the process be as inclusive as possible, involving the greater college community in a dialog about the future of Colorado College.
• that the Board of Trustees be provided regular progress reports at its meetings.
Charge:
To guide the overall strategic planning process and deliver a final draft plan to the Board of Trustees by July 1, 2013.
Charge:

Through extensive outreach that is well documented, define the goals and supporting initiatives to leverage the block plan and establish Colorado College as the leading liberal arts institution for engaged teaching and learning.
Charge:

Through extensive outreach that is well documented, define the goals and supporting initiatives to leverage our campus and community as well as our unique physical location in Colorado Springs, the Rockies and the Southwest to enrich our distinctive place of learning.
Extending Our Reach

Charge:

Through extensive outreach that is well documented, define the goals and supporting initiatives that build on our current strengths - the block plan and our distinctive place - to extend our reach and reputation.
Charge:

Through extensive outreach to both faculty and staff that is well documented, define the goals and supporting initiatives that improve our organizational effectiveness, position the college to more easily adapt to change and ease the implementation of the strategic plan.
Our Planning Language

Strategy - a strategic priority that serves as a guiding focus to further the college’s mission to “provide the finest liberal arts education in the country.”

Goal – a specific idea to further a strategy.

Initiative - a specific plan to meet a goal.
Planning
