Fellow Name: Michael Greenberger

PIFP Partner Organization: The Bell Policy Center

Please give a brief description of what you do for your organization:
I do data analysis on a number of issues such as income inequality and minimum wage increase. I also synthesize information into web postings and infographics to make key findings more accessible.

What’s the most interesting thing you’ve learned in your fellowship so far?
Non-profits have to do a lot of hard work to make a difference, but even a few people working towards a common cause can make a significant impact in the lives of many people, especially here in Colorado.

Why did you want to become a PIFP Fellow?
The PIFP program provides an excellent opportunity for CC students to experience work with a non-profit organization while still being supported by a strong network at the College.

What activities outside of your work do you enjoy?
I really like to read, bike, and do all sorts of outdoor recreating. I also enjoy cooking.

What is something most people would be surprised to know about you?
I really like Fig Newtons.
