Some opportunities to get you started on your international path...

Organization	Program Description
The Academy for Educational Development http://cap.aed.org/index.cfm *internships *Gap experience	The AED Center for Academic Partnerships (CAP) provides professional development and academic opportunities that help students and professionals establish lasting relationships and make new contributions to the development of their societies. With a focus on international collaborations and linkages, CAP's innovative programs aim to help participants become creative thinkers with global perspectives.
American Enterprise Institute http://aeiinternships.silkroad.com/ *Internships	AEI internships provide students with an opportunity to work with some of America's most renowned scholars, economists, political scientists, and foreign policy specialists conducting research on today's prominent public policy questions. These internships are unpaid but offer free gourmet breakfast and lunch. AEI's internship program has repeatedly been included in the Princeton Review, Vault Guide to Internships, and the Random House Guide to Internships as one of the top 100 internships in the country.
AmeriCorps www.nationalservice.gov/about/careers *internship *gap experience	Over 75,000 opportunities to serve through a network of partnerships with local and national nonprofit groups. Gain new skills and experiences while helping others. Full-time members who complete their service earn a Segal AmeriCorps Education Award of $5,550 to pay for college, graduate school, or to pay back qualified student loans. Some AmeriCorps members may also receive a modest living allowance during their term of service.
Avodah: The Jewish Service Corps www.avodah.net *gap experience	AVODAH strengthens the Jewish community's fight against the causes and effects of poverty in the United States. This is done by engaging participants in service and community building that inspire lifelong leaders for social change whose work for justice is rooted in and nourished by Jewish values. Programs are available in specific cities across the U.S. Corps members must be age 21-26 when their program begins, be authorized to work in the United States, and willing to commit a full year to the residential program. First deadline is in early February; however, applications are accepted on a rolling basis until all positions are filled.
Carnegie Endowment for International Peace www.carnegieendowment.org/ about/index.cfm?fa=jrFellows *gap experience	Each year the Endowment offers 8-10 one-year fellowships to uniquely qualified graduating seniors and individuals who have graduated during the past academic year. They are selected from a pool of nominees from close to 400 participating colleges. Carnegie Junior Fellows work as research assistants to the senior associates. All fellowships begin on August 1st. Junior fellows are currently paid and receive full benefits. Applications due to CC advisor for internal deadline by December contact John Gould for more information.
Catholic Network of Volunteer Service (CNVS) https://catholicvolunteernetwork.org/ *internship *gap experience	More than 10,000 volunteers serve in these programs throughout the U.S. and 108 other countries. Many opportunities available for people outside of the Catholic faith. The CNVS RESPONSE Directory allows you to search all volunteer opportunities offered by their 200 member programs. Opportunities can be as little as a few weeks and up to 2 years.
Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI) www.chci.org *internship *gap experience	The Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI) is a national non-profit and non-partisan Hispanic educational organization whose mission is to develop the next generation of Latino Leaders. This unmatched experience allows students to learn firsthand about our nation's legislative process and work with Congressmen. The Congressional Internship Program provides college students with a paid work placement in a Congressional Office or Federal Agency for a period of 8-12 weeks depending on the semester. Watch for internship deadline approximately 6 months before the experience begins. CHCl also offers two 10-month paid fellowship programs for Latino college graduates to gain hands-on experience in a variety of public policy areas through exposure to national leaders, work experience and leadership development. Fellowship application is typically in February.
Congressional Hunger Center (CHC) www.hungercenter.org *gap experience	The Bill Emerson National Hunger Fellowship and Mickey Leland International Hunger Fellowship are leadership development opportunities for individuals seeking to make a difference in the struggle to eliminate hunger and poverty. Fellows are placed for half their term of service with urban and rural community-based organizations for field experience. They then move to Washington, DC to complete the year with national organizations involved in the anti-hunger and poverty movement for policy experience. This program seeks to develop effective leaders with a deep understanding of hunger and poverty at both the local and national level. Applications due mid January.
CORO www.coro.org *gap experience	The Fellows Program in Public Affairs is a nine-month, full-time, post-graduate experiential leadership training program which introduces individuals to all aspects of the public affairs arena. Field assignments, site visits, interviews and special individual and group projects prepare Fellows to translate their ideals into action. Sixty-four Fellows are chosen annually each year through a highly competitive selection process. The Fellows Program is offered in Los Angeles, New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and St. Louis. The typical program fee is $3,500-5000. Application deadline is in mid January.
Families USA www.familiesusa.org *gap experience *internship	Families USA sponsors two one-year fellowships: The Villers Fellowship for Health Care Justice is designed to provide the fellow with a national perspective on health care justice work. The program will afford the Fellow the opportunity to learn about a range of health care justice issues and work as a full-time policy analyst in Families USA's Health Policy Department in Washington, D.C. Applications due in January. The Wellstone Fellowship for Social Justice is designed to expand the pool of talented social justice advocates from underrepresented economic, racial and ethnic minority groups, including black/African American, Latino, Native American, and Asian and Pacific Islander communities. The Wellstone Fellow plays an integral role in the work of Families USA's Minority Health Initiatives. Applications due in January.
