Fellow Name: Samantha Curran

PIFP Partner Organization: The Colorado Fiscal Institute

Please give a brief description of what you do for your organization:
CFI works to inform and influence policy debates about fiscal and economic issues facing Colorado. At CFI, I will be assisting with communication and research.

What’s the most interesting thing you’ve learned in your fellowship so far?
How crazy TABOR is.

Why did you want to become a PIFP Fellow?
I have always been interested in working in the non-profit sector, as it is a great way to make a positive change in the world, and PIFP provided a great opportunity to get my foot in the door. I am not quite sure what I would like to pursue long term, so I am excited to learn and experience things I would not have been exposed to without this program.

What activities outside of your work do you enjoy?
I have not yet fully settled into Denver, so I am currently trying to explore and meet new people; however, some things that I never get tired of are playing soccer, being outside, and going to farmers markets.

What is something most people would be surprised to know about you?
I have never seen Star Wars.
