Current employment position: Freelance writer/consultant

Experience/areas of interest: Diversity, inclusion, social justice, education, arts and advocacy

What do you value about the nonprofit sector? I appreciate that this sector is designed to better society for all people. In order to maintain 501c3 status, organizations must prove that their work is needed by the public and supported. I love that these requirements keep non-profits true to their mission and close to the needs of the population at large.

Why have you chosen to be a PIFP mentor? I have worked in public service for almost four years, sit on a couple of non-profit boards, and have consulted for non-profits. I’d love to provide insight and feedback to someone who is new to this field and help a recent graduate navigate the waters!

What’s your favorite book or movie? James Baldwin’s Go Tell It On The Mountain

What is something most people would be surprised to know about you? I love comic books (though I’m new to the genre, so it might be puppy love).
