CO330/EN380: Greek Island Pastoral

From Shakespeare's "The Tempest" to Lloyd's 2008 "Mamma Mia!", the Greek islands have persisted in the English-speaking imagination as a site for pastoral retreat. We will compare pastoral texts from a variety of traditions, cultures, and historical perspectives, focusing on how the Greek islands figure imaginatively and in reality.

DATES: 19 September to 14 October, 2020

CONTACT: Prof. Lisa Hughes or Prof. Barry Sarchett

DESTINATION INFORMATION: We will be based on the Cycladic island of Naxos, with field trips to Santorini, Paros, a vineyard, a goatherder and an artisanal cheesemaker.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION: This course offers 1 unit of credit and has no prerequisites.

PROGRAM FEE: $2,550, includes housing, transportation in Greece, all excursions, visits and tours, and international travel health insurance.

FEE DOES NOT INCLUDE: Airfare to/from Athens. Estimated cost is $1,500. Airfare is calculated into all financial aid awards.

Apply on Summit by Feb. 21 to receive aid consideration