About This Staff Handbook – Updated August, 2022

The information in this handbook is intended to provide general information and summarize various college policies, procedures, expectations and benefits. It replaces and supersedes all prior versions of the staff handbook.

You should never construe the staff handbook, any Colorado College policies or procedures, or any written materials or statements by supervisors or leadership as a contract guaranteeing the rights, compensation, or benefits of any employee. The college reserves the right to unilaterally modify or cancel any of these provisions or its policies at any time without notice. If you have questions that are not fully answered in the handbook, please ask your supervisor or contact Human Resources.

Mission Statement

At Colorado College, our mission is to provide the finest liberal arts education in the country. Drawing upon the adventurous spirit of the Rocky Mountain West, we challenge students, one course at a time, to develop habits of intellect and imagination that will prepare them for learning and leadership throughout their lives.

Core Values

As members of the Colorado College community, we share a commitment to

- Honor the life of the mind as the central focus of our common endeavor;

- Value all persons and seek to learn from their diverse experiences and perspectives;
- Practice intellectual honesty and live with integrity;
- Serve as stewards of the traditions and resources of Colorado College;
- Nurture a sense of place and an ethic of environmental sustainability;
- Encourage engagement and social responsibility at local, national and global levels;
- Seek excellence, constantly assessing our policies and programs.

Equal Opportunity

Colorado College has a foundational commitment to equal opportunity and diversity in the workplace. We want to make sure that everyone feels our willingness to hear about issues and do everything possible to make this a welcoming, inclusive, and supportive place to work.

Anti-Discrimination

Colorado College is an equal opportunity employer committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and to not discriminating in its employment practices or educational programs and activities on any basis protected by law, e.g., race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, age, religion, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, disability, or sexual orientation. The college values a diverse workforce and engages in recruitment strategies designed to increase the diversity of its applicant pool.

At Colorado College, it is everyone's responsibility to promote a work environment in which differences and diverse perspectives are respected, faculty and staff are treated equitably, and individual contributions are valued and rewarded.

Staff who feel that they have been discriminated against may choose to pursue the matter through informal or formal procedures, or both. The college will respond promptly to all complaints, and will respect, insofar as possible, the right to confidentiality of all members of the college community. Retaliation against staff who bring complaints of discrimination in good faith is prohibited and is also considered a form of discrimination that is actionable under the policy.

Inquiries regarding the Anti-Discrimination Policy may be directed to the college's Title IX Coordinator.

Sexual discrimination and harassment is a unique form of discrimination based on sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity or expression. Please refer to the college's Gender-Based Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Violence Policy for more information.

Harassment

Colorado College strives to provide the most professional and positive work environment for its employees. As such, the college will not tolerate any form of unlawful harassment (e.g., sexual, racial, ethnic, etc.) at work. It also will not tolerate retaliation for opposing harassing behavior, for reporting instances of harassment, or for providing statements or evidence related to alleged harassment.

Harassment may be verbal (epithets, derogatory statements, slurs, innuendo), physical (unwelcome touching, assault, gestures, physical interference with one's work), or visual (posters, drawings, faxes, email, messaging or texting). It may involve unwelcome sexual advances or unwelcome invitations to participate in offensive conduct. Harassment may originate from staff, faculty, supervisors, students, the general public, or vendors. In whatever form and whatever source, it will not be tolerated by the college.

Reporting Harassment

In some situations, a person may not realize that his or her behavior is inappropriate or unwelcome. If you consider any person's behavior to be inconsistent with college expectations, you are encouraged (but not required) to tell that person that his or her behavior is considered inappropriate and request that the conduct stop. Persons so told should comply immediately and graciously with such requests.

The college must learn of harassment before it can stop it. If you suspect that harassment has occurred, or you believe that you are a victim of harassment, you should immediately report the circumstances to the Title IX Coordinator. You should not presume that the college is already aware of the situation nor should you presume that it is someone else's duty to report.

If you believe your immediate supervisor is discriminating against or harassing you, you should report the situation directly to the Title IX Coordinator.

Protection from Retaliation

Supervisors or college leadership may not retaliate against a victim, reporter, or witness of harassment because of his or her report or his or her participation in an investigation into a report of harassment. Any suspicion of retaliation should be reported immediately to the Director of Human Resources.

Respectful Interactions

All of us should understand that standards of respect, consideration, and tolerance must shape our interactions with one another, regardless of whether the violation of such standards is considered unlawful under these Equal Opportunity guidelines. Certain types of behavior may be inappropriate even though they may not be violations of the Anti-Discrimination and Harassment policies.

Title IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits gender discrimination against any participant in an educational program or activity that receives federal funds. In general, no person, on the basis of gender, may be excluded, denied benefits, or be otherwise discriminated against in any academic, extracurricular, research, occupational training, or any other program or training at Colorado College. Concerns related to gender discrimination may be brought to the attention of the Title IX Coordinator.

Disability Accommodation

The college will consider requests for reasonable accommodations for a staff member's disability. If you need an accommodation, it is your responsibility to make an accommodation request. You may make the request through your immediate supervisor or contact Human Resources.

Religious Accommodation

The Colorado College community is enriched by individuals of many faiths that have various religious observances, practices, and beliefs. In affirming this diversity, it is our policy and practice to provide religious accommodations for staff unless the accommodation would create an undue hardship to the department or to the college. You may request a religious accommodation to your immediate supervisor or contact Human Resources.

General Employment Information

Colorado College is committed to assisting all staff to become familiar with information regarding employment at the college. This section provides a general overview of items that all staff members should be aware of during their career with the college.

Unless staff have a signed written contract with Colorado College with contrary provisions, either party may terminate the employment relationship at will without notice, cause, or any prior disciplinary action. The President of the College is the only person authorized to create a contract with any staff member. While Colorado College is an at-will employer, it strives to maintain open and honest communication with staff regarding their performance and to provide staff with an opportunity to be heard regarding any performance concerns.

Hours of Operation

The college's general hours of operation during the academic year are 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Summer hours may differ depending on the department. Because some departments operate 24 hours a day, staff work schedules are varied and based on departmental need. You are encouraged to talk with your supervisor about schedules for your department.

Meal and Rest Periods

Meal and rest periods, as outlined below, are not intended to be "saved" and "stacked" so that staff can adjust their regular work schedule. Staff and supervisors should discuss scheduling of meal and rest breaks in order to clarify expectations.

If employees are consistently unable to take their meal and/or rest periods after speaking with their supervisor, they should contact HR at: hr@coloradocollege.edu.

Meal Periods

Non-Exempt employees are entitled to and are authorized, permitted, and expected to take a 30-minute, duty-free, unpaid meal period if working in excess of 5 consecutive hours. The meal period should occur during a window that is at least one hour after the shift starts and at least one hour before it ends. If you are not able to take your meal

- Social security number;
- Home address and telephone numbers;

Outside Employment

Staff of Colorado College may accept employment outside the college as long as it does not interfere with their normal work schedule, affect their work performance, or represent a conflict of interest.

Complete information can be found in the Outside Employment and Secondary Employment Policy.

Colorado College strives to provide a high-quality liberal arts education to a diverse community of students. Achieving this mission requires an equally diverse group of highly qualified employees who are rewarded and recognized for their contributions. Therefore, the college supports a compensation program that:

- Is aligned with the college's mission, is administered in a financially sustainable manner, and is in compliance with all applicable legal requirements.

month. For exempt staff, the paycheck on the 15th covers the period of time from the 1st to the 15th and the paycheck on the last working day of the month covers the period of time from the 16th through the last working day of the current month. If a payday falls on a weekend, staff will be paid on the Friday before that weekend. Staff may make arrangements for direct deposit of their paychecks through Human Resources or Payroll.

On rare occasions, an error may be made in the calculation of your pay. If an error occurs, you are responsible for immediately reporting the error to your supervisor and to the Payroll office for correction. If an error occurs related to benefit deductions, you must contact Human Resources.

Recording Time

Hourly staff must report all hours worked using the electronic timesheet in Self Service Banner. Hours worked or taken as leave is recorded in 15-minute increments. If you are paid on an hourly basis, you must submit a completed timesheet for your supervisor to review and approve. The payroll schedule is located on the HR website.

Exempt staff are not required to complete a timesheet, but must complete a leave report (even if no leave was taken) in Self-Service Banner \(SSB\) each pay period for the supervisor to approve.

Overtime

Working extra hours is occasionally necessary at Colorado College. If you are paid on an hourly basis and you need to work hours in addition to your regular schedule, you must have your supervisor's approval before working the hours and you must record all hours worked. If you fail to obtain prior approval, you must still record the hours worked and the college will pay you as appropriate, though you may be subject to discipline for failing to obtain prior approval. Any staff member who is aware of others working "off-the-clock" or who is asked to do so must report this situation immediately to Human Resources.

Hours worked over forty in the workweek by hourly staff will be paid at time-and-one-half the staff member's regular rate of pay. At Colorado College, the workweek begins at 12:01 am on Sunday morning and ends at midnight the following Saturday.

Vacation

You must receive prior approval from your supervisor for vacation time. Consideration will be given to all requests for vacation time and your request will be approved whenever practical. However, your supervisor may deny vacation leave requests that conflict with the operation of the department or if you do not have vacation leave available. Paid vacation is limited to the time accrued and may not be taken in advance.

Complete information can be found in the Vacation Leave and Accrual Policy.

Sick Leave

Full- and part-time benefit eligible hourly staff accrue sick leave upon hire at the rate of .0462 hours for each hour worked. Accrual for full- and part-time benefit eligible exempt staff is based on their FTE using .0462 as the multiplier. The maximum accrual is 480 hours.

Non-benefit-eligible staff and student employees accrue sick leave upon hire at the rate of .0333 hours for each hour worked. The maximum accrual is 48 hours.

Supplemental Sick Leave (SSL)

Regular 9-12 month, full-time and part-time staff members are eligible for additional sick leave when suffering from a non-work-related medical condition and are unable to perform their normal job duties. The amount of SSL available is based upon the staff member's length of service with the college.

Colorado College may require a physician's certification of the staff member's ability to safely return to work. In some situations, if a staff member does not return to work following his or her leave or does not continue to work after the end of the leave for a period of time equal to the leave period, the college may recover insurance premiums paid during the leave.

The federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) guarantees employees who have been employed at Colorado College at least 12 months (the months do not need to be consecutive) and worked at least 1250 hours, as much as 12 weeks of unpaid time off annually for the following reasons (26 weeks if caring for a recovering service member):

- The inability to work because of a serious health condition;
- The birth, adoption, or placement for foster care of a child;
- The need for a spouse, child or parent of a military member to handle a "qualifying exigency" related to the military member's call to covered active duty. Examples of a "qualifying exigency" may include short-notice deployment, military events and related activities, childcare and school activities, financial and legal arrangements, counseling by someone other than a health care provider, rest and recuperation, post-deployment activities, parental care, or other limited related events or activities; or
- The need to care for a spouse, child, parent, or next of kin who is a recovering service member or covered veteran with a serious health condition incurred in the line of duty.

You are required to use vacation, sick leave, and personal time before accessing unpaid time. Such time will still be counted toward, and run concurrently with, any FML to which you may be entitled. You should notify your supervisor and Human Resources of the need for this time at least 30 days in advance or as quickly as practicable after the need for time off becomes known.

Staff who need three or more days off must notify their supervisor and request leave in writing to Human Resources whenever possible. Eligible staff have a right to restoration to the same or an equivalent job upon return from leave of absence under most circumstances. Full insurance benefits continue during this leave of absence unless the staff member fails to pay his or her share of the cost of the benefit.

If a staff member does not return to work following his or her leave or does not continue to work after the end of the leave for at least thirty days, the staff member must reimburse Colorado College for insurance premiums paid during leave unless the staff member does not return due to continuation or onset of a serious health condition beyond the staff member's control.

In some cases, a leave of absence for the above reasons may be taken on an intermittent leave or reduced leave basis. In some situations, Colorado College may transfer the staff member to an equivalent position which may better accommodate recurring periods of time off.

Staff absent from work because of their own serious health condition or the serious health condition of an eligible family member may be required to submit certification from a physician at any time during the absence, and also a certification of fitness for duty before returning to work. Staff absent from work because of a qualifying exigency related to an eligible call to active duty, or because of the need to care for a recovering service member may also be required to provide certifications related to these situations. Failure to obtain any of these certifications may disqualify the staff member for approved time off.

Colorado Family Care Act

The Colorado Family Care Act provides up to 12 weeks of leave, using the same eligibility requirements as the FMLA, for employees to care for a civil union or domestic partner.

Complete information can be found in the Family Medical Leave Policy.

Parental Leave and Parental Medical Leave

A period of paid leave following the birth or adoption of a child is available for full- and part-time employees. A birth mother who has less than one year of service may take up to six weeks (or two blocks if faculty) of paid leave for the birth and recovery.

For other employees, including birth mothers with more than one year of service, a period of paid leave following the birth or adoption of a child will run concurrently with Family Medical Leave and is available for full- and part-time employees 12 months after hire. Depending on the birth date and medical requirements to be off work, paid parental medical leave for an eligible birth mother during one's appointment period can be up to 6-8 weeks. For all other care-givers, including adoptive parents, paid parental leave may be 3 weeks within 12 months of the event.

Return to Work from Medical Leave of Absence

Colorado College may require a physician's certification of the staff member's ability to safely return to work. In some situations, if a staff member does not return to work following his or her leave or does not continue to work after the end of the leave for a period of time equal to the leave period, the college may recover insurance premiums paid during the leave.

Holidays

Colorado College offices are closed on the following holidays. Regular full-time and part-time staff are paid their regularly scheduled hours on these days.

New Year's Eve	Thanksgiving Day
New Year's Day	Wednesday before and Friday following Thanksgiving
Memorial Day	Christmas Eve
Independence Day	Christmas Day

If July 4th falls on a Saturday it will usually be observed the prior Friday. If it falls on a Sunday it will usually be observed the following Monday. All other holidays are observed on the holiday as it falls in the calendar.

Religious Holidays

The Colorado College community is enriched by individuals of many faiths that have various religious observances, practices and beliefs. In affirming this diversity, it is college policy and practice to provide religious accommodations for staff unless the accommodation would create an undue hardship to the department or to the college. If you wish to request vacation or leave without pay for a religious holiday, contact your supervisor at least five working days prior to the holiday.

Winter Break

In conjunction with the academic schedule, the college normally closes for a period of time in late December for a winter break. The specific dates of the break are announced each fall.

College Sponsored Community Service

Regular full- and part-time staff may request time off with pay to voluntarily participate in any of the college sponsored community activities. Colorado College offers this paid time off as a benefit to staff scheduled to work during the community service event but does not request or require them to participate in these activities. Such participation is voluntary and not considered work-related time or part of a staff member's job duties, and, therefore, is not compensated except for those days the staff member is normally scheduled to work.

Complete information can be found in the College Sponsored Community Service Policy.

Military Leave

No staff member will be subjected to any form of discrimination on the basis of that person's membership in or obligation to serve in any of the Uniformed Services of the United States. Regular full-time staff members will receive regular base pay for the two week period of reserve duty. Eligible staff may elect to use vacation time or unpaid time for the remaining time away from work.

All staff in the military reserve training program should provide a copy of their report orders to their immediate supervisor and Human Resources as soon as possible.

Jury and Witness Duty

Colorado College recognizes the civic responsibility of its staff members to serve, when called, for jury duty and to appear, when subpoenaed as a witness. When summoned for jury duty or to serve as a witness, a staff member must notify his/her supervisor immediately so staffing needs can be anticipated.

The college will continue the staff member's regular pay during the first ten days of jury duty. The staff member must forward a copy of the Juror Service Certificate to Human Resources in order to receive regular pay. When excused from jury duty early during regular work hours, staff are expected to report for work promptly.

Jury duty pay does not reduce a staff member's vacation or sick time accrual. Any payment made by the court as compensation to the staff member for such service, other than a meal or parking allowance, shall be submitted to the college during the first ten days of jury duty. If a staff member serves on a jury for more than ten days and, as a result, is not receiving regular pay from the college, then the staff member may keep the court's compensation.

Time off for Voting

Voting is an important responsibility we all assume as citizens. We encourage employees to exercise their voting rights in all municipal, state, and federal elections.

Because polling places in Colorado are generally open from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. it is possible for employees to vote either before or after work and you are encouraged to either vote by mail or vote in person during hours outside your workday. However, if you are voting in person and do not have at least three unscheduled work hours between 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. to vote and you need to arrive late or leave early on election day to allow you time to vote you must notify your supervisor not later than the day prior to the date of the election. Hourly employees may code the time for late arrival/early departure on timesheets as Other Paid Leave.

Bereavement Time

Upon the death of a close relative, regular full- and part-time staff will be granted up to three days of paid bereavement leave. If out-of-state travel is required to attend the funeral, up to two additional days of bereavement leave may be granted. Additional time may be available using vacation, approved medical leave, or unpaid leave.

Staff may be granted one-half day with pay to attend the funeral of a person not considered a close relative.

"Close relative" is defined as parent, child, spouse, domestic partner, sibling, grandparent, grandchild, or the equivalent relationship by marriage (in-law).

After the completion of the initial 90 days of employment, regular full- and part-time staff may use up to 3 days of accrued sick time each fiscal year for personal reasons unrelated to illness. Staff must receive approval from their immediate supervisor before using personal time.

Leave of Absence (LOA)

Following completion of 12 consecutive months of employment, a leave of absence may be granted for up to 4 months for personal reasons. Regular full- and part-time staff must request a leave of absence in writing from their supervisor and human resources must be notified of the request in order to ensure that insurance premiums are accounted for during the leave. LOA's may be granted taking into consideration the work needs of the college. A LOA is not approved for staff to work elsewhere unless such work is related to the staff person's job at Colorado College and has the approval of the immediate supervisor and the respective division head.

You will be required to use any accrued vacation and sick leave (for LOA related to illness or injury) before unpaid time will be granted for an LOA. Vacation and sick leave accrual will continue during a leave of absence as long as paid time is being used. When unpaid time begins, vacation and sick leave will stop accruing. Full insurance benefits continue during a leave of absence; however premiums paid by the college for dependent coverage, if previously carried, will be reimbursed by the staff member.

A job guarantee may be available, but must be in writing and signed by the division head and the Director of Human Resources to be in effect.

Termination from LOA Status

Employees may be terminated from LOA status for the following reasons:

- Failure to be present on the first day of work after the leave has expired.
- Falsification of documents or statements to gain LOA.
- Failure to provide certification of fitness for duty or of medical condition from a designated medical provider when requested.
- Reductions in force or layoff.
- Other reasons for dismissal unrelated to the request for leave.

Following one year of employment, a staff member who is a victim of domestic abuse, stalking, or sexual assault may be eligible for up to three days of unpaid time off in a 12 month period to seek a civil restraining order, obtain medical care or seek mental health counseling (for the staff member or dependent children), make the home secure, or seek new housing or legal assistance. The staff member may choose to use any available paid time (vacation, sick, or personal time).

Requests for victim protection time should be made to the supervisor and to Human Resources in advance of taking the time off unless the staff member is in a situation of imminent danger, in which case the supervisor or Human Resources should be notified as soon as possible.

If the threat to the staff member might also put other Colorado College employees at risk, the staff member must also notify the Campus Safety Department.

Complete information can be found in the Victim Protection Time Policy.

Nursing Mothers' Break Time

The college will provide a reasonable amount of break time for nursing mothers to express milk or nurse for up to two years after the birth of the child.

Staff will be paid their regular rate of pay for up to two 15-minute breaks per day. Time used during the staff member's lunch break or time used beyond the first two breaks will not be compensated.

The college will provide a private space that is separate from a bathroom area, is shielded from view, and is free from intrusion. Space in the Children's Center will be dedicated to this use, but if that is not convenient, another space will be identified.

Complete information can be found in the Nursing Mothers/ Break Time Policy.

Expectations

The college expects the highest level of professionalism and integrity from employees. The quality of the education we provide depends on the quality of your work and the respectful interactions we have with each other.

Ethical and Professional Behavior

During your interactions with other staff, faculty, students, and members of the community, you must demonstrate respect and civility. You are expected to be present for work on a regular and punctual basis and be competent, honest, and have a positive attitude. You should avoid appearances of impropriety and preserve the confidentiality of sensitive information.

Colorado College staff are discouraged from establishing personal relationships with CC students, because such relationships could make it difficult or impossible to maintain clear and appropriate boundaries. Intimate relationships between staff and students are strictly prohibited. In general, personal activities outside of working hours, personal phone calls/texts that are unrelated to CC, and personal contacts via social networking with students are discouraged.

The college also encourages staff and supervisors to refrain from personal social networking relationships. "Friending" a manager on Facebook, for example, can make it more difficult or impossible to maintain clear and appropriate boundaries for supervisory responsibilities and is strongly discouraged.

Confidentiality

Depending upon your job duties, you may have access to information that is sensitive, personal, or confidential. Examples of this type of information include:

- Information regarding students and their families;
- Information regarding other employees;
- Information regarding the College and its operations;
- Information about legal or financial matters; or
- Information arising from an allegation of harassment, discrimination, or misconduct.

The information may be in written or verbal form. Regardless of the form and regardless of the source, you must protect the confidentiality of this information. At no time should confidential college information be downloaded or removed from the college without supervisory approval.

A potential conflict of interest exists whenever a person performing in an official, institutional capacity has the ability to choose among options and the choice may affect his/her own welfare or the welfare of a member of his or her family. Potential conflicts of interest are most likely to arise in employment decisions and purchasing decisions. It is everyone's responsibility to identify conflicts of interest and bring them to the attention of the college.

Complete information can be found in the Code of Ethical Conduct and Conflict of Interest Policy.

Misuse of College Funds/Resources

You are expected to follow all college procedures concerning using college resources, cash handling, college credit cards, expense reporting, computer use, personal phone use, and maintenance of a secure work environment. Dishonesty and theft will not be tolerated. Any concerns regarding such behavior should be reported immediately to your supervisor or Human Resources.

Freedom of Expression

Free speech is essential in an academic community and is vigorously defended at Colorado College. However, standards of civility, consideration, and tolerance must shape our interaction with each other. Freedom of speech does not include a right to harass, injure, or silence others. Speech by one person that infringes upon the expression of views by someone else will not be tolerated.

The college's Code of Ethical Conduct policy states that staff may not give to, or receive gifts from, persons doing business with the college unless of a nominal value ($100 or less).

Business Attire

The generally accepted attire at Colorado College is business casual although each department may establish different requirements based upon the services provided by that department. The customary expectation is that staff members will not wear clothing with any printed message, with the exception of the Colorado College logo or messages related to Colorado College. Questions about the expectations in your department should be directed to your supervisor.

Attendance

Regular and timely attendance is an essential duty of all positions at Colorado College. If you need to be gone for a planned absence, you must make sure you have the approval of your supervisor and you must request the time off in advance. Staff who fail to report to work for three consecutive days without notifying their supervisor or division head may be deemed to have abandoned their jobs and voluntarily resigned.

Attention to Written Guidance

You are expected to become familiar with this handbook and any policies and procedures that are specific to your role and department and adhere to all as stated. Questions or concerns about any such information should be brought to the attention of your supervisor, division head, or human resources.

Safety and Efficiency

You are expected to be a good steward of the college's resources by avoiding wasteful practices, to perform your job as efficiently as possible, and to make suggestions about methods that make the college more productive. You are expected to observe safety rules and contribute to a safe workplace.

Performance Excellence

The college understands the importance of a workforce that is highly prepared for the work they are being asked to do. Performance Excellence implies that every staff person is prepared to bring a high level of expertise every day and that each person is engaged in ensuring that the mission of the college is achieved.

Performance Feedback

You should receive feedback from your supervisor throughout the year regarding the success that you are achieving as well as feedback on any performance issues that need attention.

New employees typically receive a review of their performance following completion of 90 days of employment. Annual performance reviews are generally conducted in the spring and take into account the employee's job knowledge and skill, achievement of goals, and success related to core competencies.

Performance Improvement

Although the college anticipates that all staff will be successful, performance issues do occur from time to time that require specific attention from the supervisor. To address concerns that are ongoing or have reached a critical level, your supervisor may complete a Performance Improvement Plan (PIP) with you that identifies the outcomes that are expected. The PIP is intended to provide you with an opportunity to address concerns and seek out additional resources to help you be successful.

Professional Staff Development

The college is committed to assisting staff to increase and improve their job knowledge, skills, and abilities, and to provide promotional opportunities, to the extent possible. Human Resources offers a variety of learning events through the EXCEL@CC program. Staff are encouraged to talk with their immediate supervisor regarding professional development opportunities.

Corrective Action

Each staff member is responsible for maintaining high standards of behavior and performance. Supervisors are expected to work closely with staff who are not meeting expectations by providing timely coaching and counseling that assists the staff in their efforts to improve. In the absence of improvement, the college will use a more formal level of corrective action that may include a performance improvement plan, verbal and/or written warnings, suspension, or termination of employment. severity and other circumstances related to the staff member's behavior, the college reserves the right to immediately terminate employment.

Problem Solving Procedures

Problems arising in the workplace should be addressed as quickly and efficiently as possible so that everyone involved can focus on the successful completion of their job duties. If you have concerns related to your employment with Colorado College, your first step should be to discuss your concerns with your immediate supervisor. If unresolved at that level, you can seek assistance from your respective division head. You may contact Human Resources at any time to discuss your concerns. The college expressly forbids retaliation for voicing a concern provided it is done in good faith.

Drug and Alcohol Free Workplace

The unlawful use, possession, distribution, manufacture or dispensing of controlled substances or alcohol is prohibited on Colorado College property or as part of any of the college's activities.

As an educational institution, Colorado College attempts to educate its community members about unlawful use of controlled substances and alcohol, and to encourage appropriate, responsible behavior. The college recognizes that chemical dependency of any sort is a major health problem and encourages staff who need help in overcoming such dependency to use the counseling, treatment and rehabilitation programs available to them.

If you are convicted under a criminal drug statute, you must notify the Director of Human Resources within 5 days from the date of the conviction.

Prescription drugs prescribed by your physician may be taken during work hours as long as they do not constitute a safety risk, do not cause mental impairment, and are not illegal under federal law. You must notify your supervisor if the use of prescribed drugs may adversely affect your work performance. The college will not tolerate abuse of prescription drugs at work. In addition, being under the influence of substances, such as marijuana, that may be legal under State law but remain illegal under federal law, will not be tolerated.

The college reserves the right to conduct a drug or alcohol test as a condition of employment for new employees. The college may also conduct a drug or alcohol test for

Staff attending college related social functions or serving as a representative of the college at other events may consume alcohol at such functions provided they engage in limited use and conduct themselves in a manner that reflects favorably upon themselves and the college.

Complete information can be found in the Drug-Free Campus and Workplace Policy.

Workplace Safety

Colorado College is committed to creating and maintaining a work environment that is free from intimidation, threats, and violent acts. Prohibited acts include, but are not limited to, verbal abuse, stalking, harassment, inappropriate aggression, assault, and other threatening behaviors. Acts of intimidation, violence, or threats will be considered serious misconduct.

The possession of weapons of any kind on campus is prohibited. This prohibition also applies to anyone with a concealed weapons permit. You should report any concerns regarding threatened or actual workplace violence to Campus Safety, your immediate supervisor, and Human Resources immediately. The college will maintain the confidentiality of any such report to the greatest extent possible.

Password and Security Code Protection

The college expects everyone to respect password-protected information. With the exception of the management review or inspection mentioned in the next paragraph, the college will not tolerate sharing passwords or using others' passwords.

College Property

All computer and information systems, as well as the data that are transported over, stored by, or transmitted by the systems, are the property of the college regardless of their origin or intent. Consequently, these systems, including password-protected files, telephone messages and conversations, email messages, and social networking activity, may be reviewed or inspected by college management at any time. Staff members should never have an expectation that any information they access, store, or provide using college systems is private. This information may also be included on back-up disks for an indefinite amount of time.

Social Media Use

Personal social networking activity should not be conducted during working time but rather before or after work, or during breaks or the lunch period. Personal social networking activity should never contain confidential information regarding our students, faculty or other staff. In addition, in order to prevent the appearance of a conflict of interest, the college prefers that employees not identify themselves as employees of Colorado College on these personal sites.

Telephone Use

Colorado College telephones are for college business use only. Personal telephone calls should be kept to a minimum.

If you bring a personal cellular phone to work, you must keep its use to a minimum. You should turn the ringer to "vibrate" or "silent" and calls on these phones should never result in an interruption to college activities or business.

Driving on College Business

If you drive your personal vehicle on college business, you must maintain insurance with an insurance carrier. In the event of an accident on college business, you will be required to submit a claim to your personal insurance carrier.

If your job requires you to drive a college vehicle, we will require proof of a valid driver license. In addition, a motor vehicle review is conducted on a regular basis to determine your insurability under the college's vehicle insurance policy. Violations that prevent you from driving a college vehicle as part of your job may disqualify you from performing your job with the college.

Whether you drive your personal vehicle or a college vehicle on college business, you must report any moving violation or driving convictions (including DWI or DUI) to your supervisor and the Director of Human Resources within 5 days of the conviction.

Inspections and Searches

However, these restrictions do not forbid presentations for educational purposes. Further, there is a distinction between endorsement by the college as an institution and endorsement by others who might be using our facilities.

The college is also prohibited from using campus mail for the distribution of political campaign materials.

Solicitation

The college strives to establish a work environment that is productive and without undue disruptions to the workday.
