

FELLOW PROFILE

Fellow's Name: Annie Zlevor

Fellow's Partner Organization: NCSL Health Program

What are your main responsibilities as a PIFP fellow?

My main responsibilities include researching and preparing responses to legislative requests for information related to Maternal and Child Health, writing briefs about trending health care policy, and helping with website development.

What's the most interesting thing you've learned in your fellowship so far?

I have learned about a variety of health care issues that state legislators are currently trying to address in their states and how legislators go about implementing policy.

Why did you want to become a PIFP Fellow?

I wanted to become a PIFP Fellow to learn more about health care through a government perspective.

What activities outside of your work do you enjoy?

I enjoy playing tennis, reading, keeping up with the news, and taking lots of naps.

What is something most people would be surprised to know about you?

I've played tennis with Gaël Monfils.
