

President's Blog

COP25 – Higher Ed Initiatives on Climate

 Jill  December 10, 2019  Leave a comment  Edit

This past Friday, I was part of the “University Presidents are Still In” panel at the UN Climate Change Conference (COP25) in Madrid, Spain alongside President Tim Carter (Second Nature), President Wim Wiewel (Lewis & Clark College), and President Mark Mitsui (Portland Community College). We shared our challenges, successes, and opportunities for innovation in climate change mitigation.

On Saturday, I had two additional opportunities to share what we are doing at CC, including joining another presidents’ panel to answer questions from students from around the globe (below).

At CC, we will celebrate achieving carbon neutrality in January 2020. Learn more about CC’s sustainability initiatives here.

HESI HIGHER EDUCATION SECONDARY INSTITUTIONS Second Nature EAU

Higher and Further Education Institutions and Networks Declare Climate Emergency

- 1. Committing to urgent climate action to limit global warming to 1.5°C
- 2. Working with governments to ensure that climate change is not a barrier to the progress of education and to support the transition to a green, just and sustainable economy

Current signatories

- 1. Higher and Further Education Institutions and Networks
- 2. Higher and Further Education Institutions and Networks

<https://www.sigpeccat.org/declaration>

COP25
CHILE
MADRID 2019
29th CLIMATE CHANGE CONFERENCE

#TiempoDeActuar #TimeForAction

---

Share this post:

Customize buttons

---

Leave a comment

Enter your comment here...