SUSIE B’S CHALLENGE
TO MATCH GIFTS FOR THE
COLORADO PLEDGE

In an effort to help raise funds to permanently endow scholarships for the Colorado Pledge, Board of Trustees Chair Susie Burghart ’77 has generously initiated Susie B’s Challenge. Through the challenge, new gifts of $50,000 and more that are directed to the Colorado Pledge will be matched dollar-for-dollar up to $2.5 million.

“Our sense of place in the Rocky Mountain West factors prominently into the CC experience. As the only liberal arts college in the region, we need to ensure that Colorado College is financially accessible for students from Colorado,” says Burghart.

The college aims to raise $20 million to enact the Colorado Pledge. Currently, 15 percent of CC students are from Colorado.

In addition to Burghart’s commitment, Alumni Association Council member Susan Burgamy ’66 recently established the first scholarship through the Colorado Pledge (see Summer 2019 Bulletin). Gifts of any amount can be made to the Colorado Pledge Endowed Scholarship Fund.

To learn more about Susie B’s Challenge for the Colorado Pledge, contact Meghan Yingling at (719) 389-6741 or myingling@coloradocollege.edu.