A conservation mindset

64% of Nevadans consider themselves a conservationist.

Compared to other issues...

78% say that issues involving clean water, clean air, wildlife and public lands are important in deciding whether or not to support an elected official.

Water in the West

70% think water supplies in the West are becoming less predictable every year.

Mining on public lands

78% think that companies should be required to pay fees for mining on public lands.

Protecting land, water, and wildlife

71% support a national goal of protecting 30 percent of America’s lands and oceans by 2030.

71% support full, dedicated funding for the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

74% think that portions of existing public lands where wildlife migrate each year should NOT be open to oil and gas drilling.

Ruby Mountains

71% support conserving existing Forest Service lands in the Ruby Mountains, so that oil and gas drilling will not take place in the area.

Action on climate change

59% think that action should be taken to address climate change.

72% think it is important that Nevada’s governor has a plan to reduce carbon pollution that contributes to climate change.

coloradocollege.edu/stateoftherockies/conservationinthewest